

Alma Dal Co School on Collective Behaviour

September 29 - October 4, 2025
Venice, Italy

The School focuses on collective behaviour across biological systems, from cells to communities, and uses a highly interactive format to foster knowledge exchanges between disciplines and career stages. 36 early career scientists are selected from PHD students and starting group leaders.

Speakers

Markus Arnoldini, ETH Zürich, Switzerland
Matthieu Coppey, Institute Curie, Paris, France
Gonzalo de Polavieja, Found. Champalimaud, Lisboa, Portugal
Thierry Emonet, Yale University, New Haven, USA
Mirta Galesic, Complexity Science Hub, Vienna, Austria
Simon Garnier, NJ Institute of Technology, Rutgers, USA
Irene Giardina, La Sapienza University, Rome, Italy
Karine Gibbs, University of California, Berkley USA

Chaitanya S. Gokhale, Würzburg University, Germany
Deborah Gordon, Stanford University, California USA
Matti Gralka, VU Amsterdam, The Netherlands
Ralf Kurvers, MPI Human Development, Berlin, Germany
Francesco Musco, IUAV University of Venice, Italy
William Ratcliff, Georgia Tech, Atlanta, USA
Elena Scarpa, Cambridge University, UK
Allyson Sgro, HHMI's Janelia Research Campus, USA
Yuko Ulrich, MPI Chemical Ecology, Jena, Germany.

<https://almadalcoschool.github.io/>

Venue: Palazzo Franchetti, Venezia

Promoters

Dipartimento di Fisica e Astronomia
"Galileo Galilei"

The Abdus Salam
International Centre
for Theoretical Physics

